We have always encouraged our members to get involved and run for office. I have held the office of President two times in the last 5 years and it would not be fair to run against another member who wants the job and who has been active for the last few years. I have talked with Don Ogden and many of goals. As such I am withdrawing my name from consideration as President.

BLM - DESERT NEWS

By Isabella Burns

Member of the Desert Advisory Council

The Eastern and Northern Colorado Desert Plan (NECO), a part of the Regional Habitat Conservation Plan is still being studied and revised. The public hearings for comments on the plan were held this summer. Three BLM personnel were available at the CFMS Show and Convention in Ventura in 1997 to provide information about this plan and to seek rockhounds input. Dick Crowe, the project leader spoke at the Ventura Convention and at the CFMS - South meeting in April, 1998. He showed the maps and discussed the plan, answered questions, and sought input from those in attendance. At the CFMS Show meeting this year, Jim Strain and I reported the progress of this plan and received the backing of the CFMS Board of Directors to try to establish a Rockhound Park in the Houser Geode Area. Ed Hasty, the BLM California State Director, encouraged us to pursue our plan. We felt that this historical collecting area was worthy of being set aside, not to prevent collecting but to assure its preservation for rockhound use.

I was sorry to hear that a letter that was circulated which had contained some incorrect information was exciting some of our members. I have studied the proposed three plans of NECO and do not find the statement, All of the Eastern desert in Imperial County would be closed, except for a two mile strip along the Colorado River. It does not list the closure of all routes. It does recommend the closure of some washes in areas where travel seems to be harmful to some species on the endangered list. The BLM learned a lesson from the desert bill restricting the access to the guzzles built for the big horn sheep, etc. "No off road travel" is a part of the plan, but I think people do not need to drive to the collecting spot. What happened to the fun of walking and looking for new rocks and minerals? I have not found a reference to the recreation mineral collecting in the document.

There are two more plans that are a part of the Federal and California Endangered Species Acts that are being presented - the Northern and Eastern Mojave Plan (NEMO) and the Western Mojave Plan. It seems that most rock collectors' feel using logic and reason are better than ranting and raving. More rockhounds need to take an interest in the information about these plans that is presented at the Public Hearings and/or read the plans. Jim Strain, Sue Hickman and many others, as well as I have volunteered much time and given much thought to these. As the new plans are made available, please read them thoroughly and if you do have questions or concerns, make them known. Please do not base your reactions on "half of the story".

The rules that govern the use of the desert are made in Washington, DC and the State Offices of California. The leaders do not always feel the same as we do about educational and recreational use of the desert. Be sure to vote in November!

Christmas Party

by Loretta Ogden

Well the time to celebrate the Holidays is here again. This year we will be gathering at Stuart Anderson's Black Angus Restaurant in Fullerton. The date is Tuesday December 8, 1998 at 6:00 PM for cocktails. It is very important to bring your unwrapped gifts for the children and also the food for the city of La Habra to distribute to those in need.

Speaking of need, I'm quite sure not a one of us needs this but it sounded fun for everyone to bring a wrapped rock to exchange. We can probably make a game of it. Please play with us.

You will have a choice of Teriyaki Chicken Breast, London Broil, Prime Rib, Salmon or Top Sirloin. The meal includes salad, baked potato, freshly baked bread, ice cream and coffee, tea or soft drink. You may reserve your spot by calling Bill Burns at 626 288 2896 or purchasing your ticket at the November meeting.

We are looking forward to seeing all of you at the party and if you need a ride please call any of the board members so we can make arrangements for you. This restaurant is very close to where the club used to meet. Do you remember that? Some of the newer members would love to hear the stories of the times past and on the other hand we all share in a common interest for the future of the club. We will be doing the traditional installation of the new board, maybe a song or two and possibly a little dancing.

Heres hoping we all come together on December 8th .HO HO HO

A Member's Guide for Murder (How to Ensure the Death of your Organization)

1. Don't attend meetings. (If you do, follow rules 2 & 3.)
2. Be sure to leave before the meeting is over.
3. Next day, find fault with the officers and committees.
4. Take no part in the association affairs.
5. Be sure to sit in the back so you can talk to a friend.
6. Get all the association will give you but give nothing in return.
7. Never ask anyone else to join.
8. Talk cooperation but never cooperate.
9. If asked to help on anything, always say you haven't time.
10. Never accept an office because it's easier to criticize than do anything.
11. If appointed to a committee, never give anytime or service.
12. Never do anything more than you have to. When others willing and unselfishly use their ability to help the association along, howl that the organization is run by a clique.

ALAA REPORT ON THE 105TH CONGRESS

The ALAA monitors the activities of the Federal Government, including the President, the public land managers, and the U.S. Congress. Our interest is for initiatives and actions that affect or could affect hobby activities on public lands. A summary of the public land bills passed in the 105th Congress along with a comparison of the two previous Congresses shows that this Congress was less interested in public land matters. We would observe perhaps 'less' is better, depending on the subject and on your perspective. Consider the following comparison of activities of the previous three Congresses:

Bills Introduced to Congress
103th (93-94)	104th (95-96)	105rd (97-98)
5,310	4,344	4,854	House
2,569	2,198	2,639	Senate
465	333	277	Passed
Public Land Bills Passed
40	11	8
Acres of New Wilderness/Preservation
9,089,996 acres	8,000 acres	161 acres
Miles of New Wild & Scenic River
55.4 Miles	51.7 Miles	0 Miles
Heritage River Corridor Designations

Our observations are that the 105th Congress was a "good" Congress in terms of avoiding further restriction of access to public lands for hobby pursuits. In the 105th Congress, the major Bill passed that effected public land was the expansion of the Eagles Nest Wilderness in the Arapaho National Forrest and the White River National Forest in Colorado which added 160 acres to wilderness. The other Bills were primarily minor land exchanges and transfers.

CFMS News

by Bill Burns

The big buzz around the CFMS is when, why, and how do they go on the Web. Well that is riot as simple as some of the internet buffs might think- The executive board has to be sure that this will be correctly handled, should they go professional, is it cost effective, and many more concerns to serve the entire California Federation of Mineralogical Societies. I am sure many of decisions will be made by the time that you read this as the Federation Meeting is Nov. 14. Next year they will be requesting an e-mail address from each society and that does not necessarily mean the president.
