NOC General Meeting Minutes April 11, 2018

Hi Don, I had an angiogram yesterday and I have been so under the weather, that I was unable to put these minutes Beth Smith took for me on a word doc. Maybe you could just copy and paste it into the newsletter?

I am on the mend and hopefully can take my responsibilities to the club back soon. Thank you, Don for your patience during my absence. Teri

These Are The Minutes Beth Texted Me.

Armando did a presentation on salt, and talked about the upcoming show in June.

Kevin Smith had people to speak about their jobs:

Cathy Houwen talked about sending out cards. She is our new Sunshine girl.

Rose Pedroza talked about the show and asked for volunteers.

Richard Sprowls talked about the field trip's
Don Warthen told about Zzyzx and camp Paradise.

Kevin Smith talked about getting a new Warehouse for the club and show storage. We will save $1000 a year. He asked for volunteers to help clear out the old Warehouse, and move the storage items to the new Warehouse.

Kevin told everyone about the Citru Fair May 5, 2018 and asked for Volunteers.

Kevin closed the meeting at 8:14.

Fossils At The Community Center

by Nancy O'Connor

Please take a look at the display case on the right as you enter the La Habra Community Center. You will see a fabulous display of fossils.

The majority of them are from Armando Pedroza's collection. The dinosaur bones are from Jann Cohen and dinosaur skin from Nancy O'Connor. We are very, very fortunate to have this display case available for the club to use.

I am always looking for interesting items to display, and I know all of you rockhounds have something of interest!!! So please see me or email me.

Himalaya Mine May 19, 2018

via Whittier Gem and Mineral Society May Newsletter

Southern California is the Number 1 source of tourmaline above the equator. You have to go to Brazil to find our rival.

The Himalaya Mine, opened in 1898, was the world's top producer for a long time before shutting down in 1977. Discovery of a new pocket in 1989 yielded half a ton of tourmaline. The mine can't support commercial operations but continues as a popular destination for rockhounds.

The fee for a day is $70 per person, discounted to $50 if our group has 20 people or more. You get to take home whatever you find.

The tourmaline there is beautiful, a hard gemstone with a large crystal in a range of colors – especially pink, green, and a bicolor variety called watermelon (the pink surrounded by the green).

The Himalaya Mine is in San Diego County, not far from Lake Henshaw, ten or so miles from Hellhole Canyon Preserve. It gets hot there. Bring your easy-up and plenty of water. Also important, bring a lunch.

in February and did not get to come to this class will get started at the next class.

All attendees finished their cab and were excited to go to the next step. At the first class the rock slab was already mounted on the dopstick and each student got to experience shaping, doming, and polishing their own work of art.

Future classes to be announced

We should all be very proud of our Future Rockhounds.

They have all been very active learning all the earth sciences, the hardness scale, classes of rocks and even wire wrap, and of course they have been creating fabulous works of art and keepsakes.

At the April workshop our Future Rockhounds made some beautiful clocks using a variety of different rocks.

CFMS JUNIOR ACTIVITIES CONTEST "NAME THAT DINO"

Dear CFMS Junior Activities Chairmen,

CFMS has a new addition to the family of Rockhounds. She is an animated baby Triceratops puppet, designed by a paleontologist, and made for Natural History Museums and Jurassic theme parks. She blinks her dreamy eyes, opens and closes its mouth to say "hello," and is sure to be a charmer for kids and adults alike. She has been donated for appearances during the Annual CFMS Shows & Conferences.

CFMS is having a "naming" contest for the sweet creature. We are inviting all of our Junior Activities Chairmen to gather your Pebble Pups together to come up with a fantastic name for the baby triceratops. As junior group leaders you know your "pups" the best. If you can organize the kids coming up with one name representing your junior's group, that would be swell, but knowing how originally creative kids can be, if your "pups" come up with a few more "irresistible" and clever names, you are welcome to write those in too.

Answer

4 -- All of the above.

Called creepy, scary and spooky, bats often get a bad rap. They're an important species that impact our daily lives in ways we might not even realize. From pollinating our favorite fruits to eating pesky insects to inspiring medical marvels, bats are heroes of the night. Rock climbers and explorers can help protect bats by simply doing what they love and then tell us where they see bats.
